

Letter For The Pregnant Women:

Hello, how is your day? I know we may not know each other, but you are gonna have the most beautiful, and blessed baby. God loves you so much and gave you the biggest blessing ever!

Here is a quote for you: "A baby is God's sign that life should go on!"

Hi, I know you feel very lonely, but if you don't have that baby, a life you won't be able to live and since we were all born, all people deserve to be able to live, and that baby that you have now in your belly would be your greatest joy tomorrow, trust Papa God who is always with us.

Hola, sé que te sientes muy sola, pero si no tienes ese bebé una vida no podrá vivir y como todos nacimos, todas las personas merecen poder vivir, y ese bebé que tienes ahora en tu vientre sería tu mayor alegría mañana, confía en papa Dios que siempre está con nosotros.

Dear anonymous mother,
thank you for deciding to raise your child, and I hope both you and your child benefit greatly from the help you are receiving. I am sure you are a great mother; and I am also sure sure your child will be successful in life. Once again, thank you for raising your child. Your actions are truly making the world a better place.

God bless you,

Maximo Capino

I bless you and your baby. I hope your baby is healthy and makes you the happiest mother you could ever be. I know raising a child is hard but I know you will get through every up and down. I bless you and your baby and I hope you are the happiest mother ever!

I

Bless

You!

Espero que disfrutes el regalo.
No es tanto pero es lo que
teníamos, te lo estamos
regalando del fondo de nuestro corazón. Te queremos y apreciamos.

Thank you for saving your baby's soul. Even if you face many adversities and hardships along the way, just know that the life you saved is worth it. You are allowing someone new into this world, a soul who will be able to experience what the world can offer him or her. Always remember that and remember that God loves you.
